

Indiana's current telephone privacy act is working the way the people of Indiana envisioned. I am personally against any changes that would allow intrusive phone calls to my home. If we wanted out banks or other firms that we do business with to practice telemarketing to our homes, we would not have placed our names on the list. This should be a states rights issue, not a federal issue. Please drop your proceedings.